Dunne on death of John Belgrave

UnitedFuture leader Peter Dunne today expressed his sorrow at the death of the Chief Ombudsman, John Belgrave.

“It was my pleasure and privilege to work with John when I was a Minister in previous governments,” said Mr Dunne.

“He was an outstanding administrator and one of New Zealand’s great public servants who served his country well in a wide variety of roles for decades.

“He will be greatly missed and I extend my deepest sympathies to his wife and family,” said Mr Dunne.
